

Latest data indicates that BPL would be disasterous to Amateur Radio. Interference would destroy the ability of Hams to communicate on High Frequency bands or provide assistance during emergency situations. The FCC has traditionally acted to prevent interference to all services under FCC jurisdiction, this would be a total abandonment of that position.